I dont know why you couldnt use a microphone in one of the inputs and sing along with music sound tracks. Im pretty sure you could do this. Maybe try google or Youtube with searching singing or voice into the JS10. There might be something out there on this subject. Any hope That being said, the unit is very compact and doesnt take up a lot of room similar in size to a CD player clock radio. That being said, the unit is very compact and doesnt take up a lot of room similar in size to a CD player clock radio. The unit comes with lineout RCA unamplified or headphone out amplified both outputs are stereo. If you want the same functionality as the JS10 but without speakers or amplification, get the GT10 I have both by the way. But my GT10 remains in its box. The JS10 is all that I need. My lineout runs to a 16 channel Yamaha mixer with output to a powered PA the headphones out feed a pair of wireless headphones for amazing quality stereo sound!. Often I run the PA and wear the headphones at the same time the headphones protect my hearing while the PA supplies some extra bottom end.

No regular footswitch though, but if you dont need many effects per song then this is even great for bringing along and playing where you want. Very happy with it and I use this for jamming most of the time now. Send report Total handling features sound quality one awesome little unit! tomer, 07.02.2018 An amazing system for both beginners and advanced guitarists, everything a guitarist needs to practice, the effects sound great. The system is of the highest quality, the sound is amazing for a device of this size. I highly recommend. I really like the tracks in the device and the preset effects for each track, the possibility to slow down the song and change the scale of the song, record my self playing and hear and correct what is needed in the patch, and everything in one awesome little unit. Send report Total handling features sound quality Jam station! Z.M.G., 18.10.2018 I use as a replacement for the guitar and bass guitar combo amplifiers. The bass sound is loud enough. A lot of settings, but you need to get used to the management. You can change the tone of builtin songs, but it is better not to. There is a need for additional line input, for the three sources of possibilities is not enough, it is necessary to use an additional mixer. I eventually gave up trying to learn yet another piece of gear and offloaded this. Would have liked to see a metronome built in it is a practice tool after all. Because it's portable, John can easily take the JS10 on tour and use it to warmup backstage before a show or practise in hotel rooms or a tour bus where having an amplifier and separate pedals may not be practical. It let's you to adjust the tempo and key signature of the songs and record your performances, making it an incredibly powerful tool for honing your improvisation skills. It's a convenient, effective, and fun method for learning!An innovative onboard 2.1 speaker system provides rich, fullfrequency sound for song playback and the builtin effects and COSMamps, with deep bass that can shake the room.The selection is wider with new variations of instrument combinations, including "minusone" audio for bass, two guitars, and guitar and bass. Your favorite MP3s and WAV files can be played back directly from a USB key, or imported into the JS10 from a computer via USB. In addition, you can record your live performance with effects along with the songs into the JS10.Amazon calculates a product's star ratings using a machine learned model instead of a raw data average. Joanni 5.0 out of 5 stars I enjoy jamming with this player. I recommend this to any guitarist.The effects are very good, especially the hard rock ones which are my favorite. The only problem is when I unplug my fender Stratocaster and I play distortion sound, sometimes a swish noise comes out.

The sound which comes out from the speakers are quite fine but not too much strong. Sorry, we failed to record your vote. Please try again But being a guitar enthusiast more than a really good player, I change a lot So I sold the Js8 to a friend while I concentrated on a tube amp setup. Then, about a year later, I desired the JS10 and purchased one. I liked it but again went with a newer tube amp model and eventually sold the JS10. That was over 1 year ago. But I do not play in a band. I play only at home and 99% with no one ever hearing or seeing me. I don't need the big stuff. But I like the sound of the big stuff. So, I simply use the JS10 with speakers attached, along with internal speakers and BOOM the sound is awesome. It is near not exactly but nearly what the amp setup is. The JS10 has so many features that I like that the Amp setup do not have like an auxiliary input, song looping, tuner, headphone jack, and so many effects that can be tweaked galore. Also, for my taste, I can just sit and play by dialing in the presets available. I am now selling all of my other gear. The JS10 is my go to from here on out. Sorry, we failed to record your vote. Please try again But when I got it, I was stunned it was actually better than I had ever imagined it to be. I love the superb sound quality and I love the excellent play along tracks included. The choice of guitar sounds is also superb, especially when combined with a specific track basically, your amp and sound setting are preprogrammed. The built quality is good, the hardware interface buttons is very good, and the software user interface display is decent. The unit ships with a decent manual. I have recorded my improvisations over the play along tracks and send the result to some professional musicians who were most impressed. Bottom line is this this is not a neat gadget, but a top quality tool for the serious guitarist. Your progress will be immediate and quite amazing.

Basically you have a high quality band ready to play for you anytime. Not matter what style of guitar you play if you can afford it and want to make progress fast, then get it. You will not regret this purchase! Sorry, we failed to record your vote. Please try again No its not the loudest unit on the block but its not supposed to be ok they over hype the speakers. Its easy to use, has a great variety of music to practice with and get inspired. I also LOVE the preinstalled rhythm tracks as well. I easily loaded some of my favorite mp3 to practice with after upgrading the Sd card to 32GB make sure to copy all the system files from the included SD card, then copy them back to the new one. I haven't gone through all the effects but there is a great variety and they are automatically pulled up and stored with different songs but you can change the defaults that come up for that song. I play acoustic mostly but its nice to plug in an electric with headphones for quiet jamming late at night. The AB looping function is awesome for learning difficult passages and yes you can slow things down significantly but the music starts sounding choppy fairly quickly especially when you get down to like 80 percent speed. It is very easy to record a track over an existing loop and then audition it before you save or delete it. Its also a very simple process to transfer your song from the SD card to a usb stick where it saves the song as a.wav file. just having this box on your desk like a laptop is just so freaking cool. Some people have criticized the amp modeling as not being very good, but honestly i don't know from different amps so doesn't bother me. Given that this is arguably one of the best swiss army guitar boom box ive ever seen I don't expect perfection from every tool. Still i think they jammed quite a bit into this device and am very pleased by the portability, ease of use and just plain fun.

If you just want to practice, get inspiration for songwriting, or just want to use it as an electronic scratch pad I really don't think you can go wrong with this one! Sorry, we failed to record your vote. Please try again Sorry, we failed to record your vote. Please try again I have in the past owned many different pedals and amps. This little package has everything you need and more. It has the ability to play MP3s at different pitches, record what you are playing, drum tracks, etc. Also, the effects are great. You can also add a mic or second guitar, and also a foot switch. I have not had the opportunity to try these options, but I am pretty close to moving forward on the purchase of the foot switch. I would definitely recommend this, and already have. Sorry, we failed to record your vote. Please try again It allows a person to play with other musicians, record, play guitar or bass or sing and use different amps. It will raise your level of play 10 times faster than just practicing and playing alone. The backing tracks offer a great way to play different genres and practice soloing, scales, mastering the fret board, playing along with your favorite bands and as far as I can see it is for any level player. Sorry, we failed to record your vote. Please try again The owners Manuel is there for the more technical feats. I really have some great guitar equipment, but I love playing and recording stuff is a blast. Luckily, Im retired and can spend a lot of time performing my passion. Thanks, again, Boss! Sorry, we failed to record your vote. Please try again I found that when I turn the speed up to over 200 bpm it forces and challenges me to keep up, which has really improved my playing. Sound quality is fair. Had there been a little more diversity in the presets I would have given it a 5 star rating. Sorry, we failed to record your vote. Please try again I would like to have control over the effects vs. If it has that capability I have not found it have only used it a bit.

I cant get a good clean sound but still fun stuff and good practice for lead. Sorry, we failed to record your vote. Please try again The unit works better than I anticipated, would recommend to anyone. Sorry, we failed to record your vote. Please try again I really dont use the backing tracks but rather load songs to learn by ear. The JS10 is super easy to use and very intuitive. It has many different amp models loaded along with effects so getting your tone set for a certain song is a breeze. Youll love it, buy one. Sorry, we failed to record your vote. Please try again Levels are good for play in a small room and using headphones, which is what I primarily use it for. Sorry, we failed to record your vote. Please try again An avid guitar player he has tried many foot pedals and other machines and they seem to be super complicated or too simple and not what he really wants. He loves this and it is very user friendly. Sorry, we failed to record your vote. Please try again.
